

The Sotoyome Resource Conservation District and the Gold Ridge Resource Conservation District present:

Backyard Stewardship Workshop

Learn to inventory your house and garden for practices that may be harmful to your family and the environment

When & Where:

Monday, September 15, 2003
Sebastopol Veterans Memorial Building
282 S. High Street, Sebastopol

Time:

7:00 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Speaker:

Laurel Marcus, Watershed Scientist

For more information, or to RSVP, Contact:

Sierra Cantor at (707) 569-1448;
sierrac@sonic.net.

“The House and Garden Audit: Protecting
Your Family’s Health and Improving the Environment” manuals will be provided to workshop participants.

Space is limited, to ensure a place
please RSVP by September 10.

This workshop is free of charge.

Learn How To:

- Manage your house and garden for pest control using less toxic methods
- Remove non-native invasive plants
- Care for creek banks and increase wildlife habitat values in your yard
- Protect your property from erosion
- Reduce fire risk to your home

This workshop made possible through funding through the City of Santa Rosa and the Sonoma Water Agency. All SRCD programs are open to the public and offered on a non-discriminatory basis. If you require special accommodations due to a disability, please contact the SRCD.