

SOTOYOME AND GOLD RIDGE RESOURCE CONSERVATION DISTRICTS ANNOUNCE

Is your Ground Covered?
A Rural Roads Workshop

WEDNESDAY NOVEMBER 10th, 6:30-9:00pm
Sonoma County Farm Bureau Meeting Room
970 Piner Road, Santa Rosa

*Refreshments will be provided. Participants will receive printed materials.
A $10 donation is requested for the workshop.
Proceeds will directly benefit the sustainability of the RCD workshop series.
The donation is requested but not required.*

PLEASE RSVP

(contact information provided below)

This workshop will outline why road rural roads can present environmental conditions detrimental to creeks and rivers, and provide some model approaches and projects that can provide both lower maintenance costs and benefits for fish and wildlife. Hear about the A-Z's to consider for new or existing roads, and the resources available regarding "eco-friendly" roads. Video clips of local project work and field examples will highlight the speaker presentations.

Speakers: Scott Gergus- North Coast Regional Water Quality Board; John Green- Pacific Watershed Associates; and excerpts from the video of Handbook for Forest and Ranch Roads

This workshop is part of a series that will provide landowners with practical knowledge and solutions about complex natural resource issues.

2004-05 Fall & Winter
EDUCATIONAL WORKSHOP SERIES

To RSVP, or for more information about these workshops, please contact Rick Kaye at the Sotoyome Resource Conservation District at (707) 569-1448. You can also email at rickett@sonic.net. Workshop locations are wheelchair accessible. If you need special accommodations, please let us know in advance so that we can make any necessary arrangements. The Sotoyome and Gold Ridge RCDs do not discriminate against any person or persons, based on race, color, national origin, religion, sex, disability, age, marital status, citizenship, or sexual orientation. Partial funding for this series has been provided through the State Water Resources Control Board and Sonoma County Water Agency grants and contract sources.